

BHEL's Commitment in Support of U.N.G.C. Programme

Established in 1964, BHEL is one of the India's largest engineering and manufacturing enterprises in the energy and infrastructure sector and a leading power equipment manufacturer globally.

BHEL serves the core sectors of the economy and provides a comprehensive portfolio of products, systems and services to customers in power, transmission, transportation, renewables, water, defence & aerospace, oil & gas and industry from its widespread network of 16 manufacturing plants, 2 repair units, 4 regional offices, 8 service centres, 15 regional marketing centres, 3 overseas offices and more than 150 project sites across India and abroad. In all, BHEL has footprints in 83 countries in all the six inhabited continents.

The worldwide installed base of the power generating equipment supplied by BHEL exceeds 185 GW – making it the undisputed leader amongst Indian power plant equipment manufacturers. BHEL has installed more than 1000 utility sets in thermal, hydro, nuclear & gas based power plants, contributing more than 50% to the total installed conventional power generation capacity in the country.

Safeguarding the environment has always been one of our major concerns. We have well established Environment Management System (EMS) accredited to ISO 14001: 2015 Management System Certification. The EMS provides us an excellent framework to proactively identify & manage the risks related to Environment in a systematic manner.

Our impeccable track record especially in the fields of - Corporate Governance including anti-corruption, development and deployment of cleaner technologies for safeguarding the environment and respect for human rights including labour standards – indicates that BHEL has internalised the 10 principles of UNGC in its organizational culture and strategy and continued to play a prominent role in UNGC programme.

BHEL stands committed to advance these UNGC principles within its sphere of influence. The company publically advocates these principles to its stakeholders through Annual Report, Press conference, and other public communications. BHEL performance on each of these principles for the year 2019-20 is hosted on UNGC website as well as company's website www.bhel.com.
